

Conference Partner offer for Agile People Sweden 2017

The future of work

Worklife continues to change in an even faster pace and the need to discuss new ways of working with HR and leadership is more crucial than ever. Therefore, we are organizing Agile People Sweden for the 5th time on October 23-24 at Teaterskeppet, Stockholm (yes, it's a boat!)

The theme this year is The future of work – Scaling agility to improve worklife, and we have attracted a number of interesting speakers, among others:

Jurgen Apello: The founder of Happy Melly and Management 3.0 will talk about his new (ad)venture Agility Scales

Bonnitta Roy: Creator of the most minimalistic framework of organizations, OPO (Open Participatory Organisations), spreading positive values based on co-creating and consensus.

James Priest: Appreciated founder of Sociocracy 3.0, patterns for running businesses in a more human manner.

Göran Nilsson and Lennart Francke: Successful in Sweden with the book "The agile company"

Joshua Vial: Founder of Ensprial, the Australian movement of creating sustainable value and contributing to a better world.

If you want to join us as a company and get exposure for potential clients before, during and after the conference, you need to put the dates in your calendar now. We will have a limited amount of partner companies onsite (2-5) so each partner will get a large exposure.

The conference is hosted by Agile People, a company, network and meetup group, dedicated to change how we see work och leadership. The ultimate goal for Agile People is to support creation of organizations that are fit for people. The first day will consist of a number of sessions and the second day is for discussing topics in workshop format. You are welcome both days.

Partner package (4900 Euro)
